

SASSI training for trainers, career consultants and coaches in Portugal

The short training took place in May in Matosinhos, Portugal as part of the SASSI programme. This was a crucial face-to-face element of the Blended Learning programme that upskilled 18 trainers and career consultants from the 6 partner organisations in the innovative methods and approaches developed by the SASSI project.

Overview

The webinar

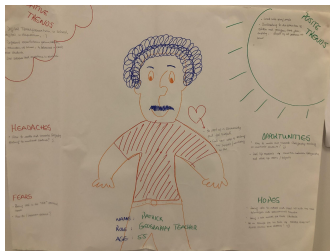

A webinar took place on 15 May to introduce the group to the SASSI project and methodology. Some insights from the upcoming training and the programme were shared. The SASSI hub was shown to participants, who were prompted to check it out on their own and prepare some tasks before gathering in Portugal.

The training

The 3-day training event took place from 23rd to 25th of May. The purpose was for the trainers and consultants to gain practical insights into the SASSI-Later-life Careers methodology, to experience the learning modules on their own and to learn how to apply the suggested methods with their clients (older people who want to or have to continue their working life).

The programme

The participants examined ways of tackling age-discrimination (towards older workers) in the workplace, learnt using methods for age-specific career counselling and storytelling as a tool for career review. They also explored the concept of olderpreneurship, learning of the various ways of becoming entrepreneur and related skills. The last day was dedicated to the concept of mobilities and their benefits for the professional development as well as planning their own learning project.

What's next?

Following the course, each participant will be supported by the partners to implement a Learning Project/pilot with C-VET Professionals/HR Managers and/or directly with the end-user beneficiaries of older workers and learners. A total of 18 Learning Projects and pilots are envisaged across the partnership. Afterwards, the participants will produce a compilation of case studies to illustrate their experiences and lessons learned. Stay tuned for further news!
