

UNITE PROJECT NEWSLETTER

ISSUE #2

LET'S UNITE!

Welcome to the second edition of the UNITE – Ukrainian Newcomers' Integration Towards Employment project newsletter!

Over the past months, our cross-border partnership has been actively implementing national mentoring activities and sharing practical insights to empower Ukrainian newcomers across Europe. From developing individual integration pathways to facilitating peer learning among mentors, the UNITE project continues to turn integration opportunities into sustainable outcomes.

Whether you are a newcomer seeking guidance, a local employer, or an integration practitioner, here is what we have achieved together recently.

Empowering pathways: mentoring & individual support

Our national mentoring activities across partner countries are actively guiding Ukrainian newcomers through customized support designed for smooth labour market access.

What UNITE currently provides:

- Tailored mentoring & guidance: one-on-one mentor support focused on identifying existing skills, boosting participant confidence, and navigating local job markets.
- Progression & competence development: continuous monitoring of personal growth, soft skills enhancement, and adaptation tools.
- Well-being & integration: practical guidance that combines career opportunities with social inclusion and community integration.

If you are ready to take concrete steps toward your career goals in your new host country, reach out to our local partner teams!

The UNITE Project Team:

Working with Newcomers? Build the UNITE Hubs with Us!

We invite local businesses, NGOs, public institutions, and employment agencies to join our UNITE Hubs.

The hubs bring together local stakeholders to:

- Coordinate targeted employment support for newcomers.
- Share expertise on cross-cultural workplace integration.
- Co-create sustainable career paths that match local labour market needs.

Transnational Project Meeting in Uppsala

In late June, partners of the UNITE project gathered in Uppsala, Sweden (hosted by Folkuniversitetet) for the Transnational Project Meeting!

The meeting provided a valuable opportunity for partners from to review overall project progress, discuss qualitative results, and plan upcoming implementation milestones.

Key highlights from the meeting:

- Mentors from all partner countries exchanged practical experiences, discussed real-world challenges, and shared proven methods for supporting job market entry.
- Mentors reflected on participant motivation, reflective practices, and cross-cultural communication strategies.
- We reviewed monitoring feedback and established standards to ensure consistent, high-quality support across all partner countries.
